Product Description

Dental E-Max Crown

Elevate your dental restorations with Dental E-Max Crowns from ADS China Dental Lab. These crowns offer unparalleled esthetics and strength, making them the ideal choice for a wide range of dental procedures.

Advantages

Excellent Esthetics with Natural Translucency: Provides a natural, lifelike appearance that seamlessly integrates with your smile.

Exceptional Strength and Durability: Strong enough to endure everyday chewing and grinding, ensuring long-lasting results.

Versatile for Various Types of Restorations: Suitable for single crowns, veneers, inlays, onlays, and full-arch reconstructions.

Minimal Tooth Preparation: Conserves natural tooth structure, promoting better oral health.

Biocompatible and Well-Tolerated: Reduces the risk of allergies and sensitivities, offering a safe option for patients.

Key Features

Esthetic Excellence: Delivers beautiful, natural-looking results with high translucency and color matching.

Exceptional Strength: Durable enough to withstand significant bite forces, perfect for both anterior and posterior applications.

Versatility: Customizable for a variety of restorations, ensuring tailored solutions for each patient.

Minimal Tooth Preparation: Requires less removal of natural tooth material, preserving more of the original structure.

Biocompatibility: Safe for patients, minimizing the risk of adverse reactions.

Indications

Single crowns

Veneers

Inlays and onlays

Full-arch reconstructions (with proper case selection)

Considerations

Ensuring proper shade selection and maintaining clear communication with ADS China Dental Lab are vital for achieving the best esthetic outcomes.

Detailed case selection and clinical assessment are important to determine the suitability of E-Max restorations for each patient.
